[Special Dispatch to the Chicago Tribuna.]

Washington, July 12.—7 r. k.

Positive information has been received here of the evacuation of Fairfax C. H. by the rebels, and that our troops are in full possession of the town, with their pickets extended four niles beyond towards Mamassas Junction. The spirit of the army is now intense-almost irresistible—for a further advance. The laurels won by Gen. McClellan will not jet them sleep. "Push on the column," is permanently, in order that necessier all our forts and public places may be garrisoned with their full complement of men. The utter ab-surdity of leaving all our costly fortifications supprotected, which in this instance no doubt was so strong a temptation to armed robellion, will no longer exist, even when peace is re-stored. tion of the new National Armory, which is to take the place of that destroyed at Harper's Ferry. Pittaburgh interests make a strong pressure for it, but Kock Island, Ill., is the favorite place with both the Senate and Honse Military Committees. The Senate Military Committee will report for Rock Island, and the House Committee, being nearly all West-ers men, is expected to do likewise. The House Special Committee is simply to report as to the expediency of building a new armo-ry, and has ne power to locate it.

as to the expediency of building a new armo-ry, and has no power to locate it.

Mr. Potter's House Committee on the trai-tors employed in Departments, will not find much material if removals proceed as rapidly as they have done since the committee was ordered. The hotels here are crammed with gressmen complain that they are far more overwhelmed with solicitations now than after the insuguration. This is one reason which will work powerfully to shorten the which will work powerfully to shorten the seasion.

Mr. Saulsbury, of Delaware, will offer a compromise plan in the Seaste, on the basis of the old Crittenden propositions. It will be of no use. There is not a patriot in either house but plates the very sound of "compromise." Yan Wyek's contract corruption committee has before it astounding facts relative to army supplies, and the profits made on them hy speculators whom the War Department entrusted with these matters. Next week will devalop an unpleasant chapter under this head, but no action will probably be them by speculators whom the War Department cutrusted with these matters. Next weak will develop an unpleasant chapter under this head, but no action will probably be taken before the regular assaion.

Fred. Stanton still claims Lane's seat in the Senate from Kassas, on the ground that Lane's proclamation calling for volunteers, as a Brigadier-General, amounts to an acceptance of that office. He cannot constitution ally hold both offices. The matter is before the Senate Committee, but delicacy towards Lane, who insists on retaining his seat, will probably prevent action at this time.

The administion to easi in the Senate, to-day, of the two new Virginia Senators, was a most interesting aften. The attempt made by the two Delaware Senators to exclude them until after an investigation by a committee, miserably failed, receiving only five votes. Mesers, Trumbull, Hale and Latham made powerful speeches in favor of their immediate admission. So did Johnson, of Tenn. All iministed that loyal Virchnia must be represented on the floor of the Senate. Mesers. Cartisle and Willey were sworn in, in presence of a crowd. of Senate, ante-rooms and galleries, and with a floulty were the crowd restrained from applicae. Thus does the great restoration begin. Only nine and a half States are now unrepresented in Congross, Tennessee having her noble Andrew Johnson to speak for her fifty thousand loyal voters.

The House did a righteous deed to-day, in expelling "Helper" Clark, of Miscouri, who took up arms against the Government at Boonville. A little more than two-thirds voted for it. There has been no event in the history of the country since the formation of the Federal Constitution more significant in its present and future results than the passage of the Loan bill in the lower House. The promptivide of action and the manimity of appropriation surprised even those who were familiar with the temper of the body. It is worth one bundred thousand men in its influence upon the contest. Immortal honor will attach to each and every name upon this roll of patrictism. Now let the capitalists make an immediate advance upon Richmond.

An avowed disunionist, recently arrested with figgrant proof of completity with the rebels, and held in custody by the Court become which his first examination took place, was to-day released by an order direct from the Secretary of War, who granted it at the request of Mayor Berret, whose secsation sympathies are perfectly well known. In this the Grand Trunk Railroad is involved, as the backbone of the contest, all the way from Windsor to Quebec. The Opposition claim that the credit of the Province is rulned by its railroad speculations; the Ministry seem to concede as much, but argued that time had not been given them to develop a policy; now that they have won, the beaten party conclude that another four years' lease has been given them to use up what little there may be win. There have been important changes, on both sides, in the election, and the Ministry or Railroad party have carried pretty much everything along the Grand Trunk, including the two members from Toronto; while the opposition made most headway in the back towns. In the absence of George Brown, of Toronto, the old "clear grif" leader, who has been besten, Mr. McGee, of Montreal, will probably be the foremost man on that side in the new Pacliament. In this inglorious way mouths of May and June have come gune, and we are now in the middle July. Every day for eight weeks the lar bas been regaled by telegraphic trances from Washington letter writers, a Congressmen and Governors, and or high personages just from head riers, that the Grand Army was on very eve of marching against the traile. We are sold that the "pian" is vigorous and comprehensive, and whispers come from Washington that the reason for the grand army does not advance is, because it is unprovided with artillery sufficient to cope with that in possession of the repels; and also that it is destitute of cavalry, while the enemy is protected by clouds of horsemen, and that it would not be safe or prodent for the grand army to move until it be adequately uppplied with these indispensionable elements of a complete corps of armos. Why artillery and cavalry were not called out simultaneously with infantry or soon afterwards, is unknown to the people. And to ask for the reason is denounced as another impertinant interference with the people are brow-beaten and allenced while the precious days of the campaign are frittered away in affairs of out-posts.

The men are a noble and stalwart set of fellows inured to labor in the mines and pineries. During their stay at Fond du Lac, they have been rationed by contract at 30 fectual per day, and have lived well, receiving liberal and generous courteains from the citizens. On leaving, word was passed by Col Hamilton, that no whisky would be showed en rous, and all along the lines canteens were held up reversed and then filled with coffice.

The regiment is supplied with twenty-four substantial Ariny chests. The Hospital department is admirably supplied, the ladies of Wisconsin having sent in a large variety of citities and articles suitable in the sick room. There are four large Hospital tents, with one steward, three cooks, and one experienced nurse. The second Assistant Surgeon is under the pay of the State.

The tents were struck at Camp Hamilton at 2 P. M. of Friday, and the special train of twenty cars on the Chicago and Northwestern railroad was under way at 70 clock? P. M. The parting was witnessed by several thousand records.

seen by but few of our citizens. They were speedly transferred to the care of the Michigan Southern railroad, and ere this issue of our paper reaches@our Wirconsin readers, the gainst third will have reached Harrisburg. They have with them five days rations. The above heavy details will attest that Wisconsin has done annatomothy in their outfit. Her troops will not diagrace her.

The Chimney Corner.

There is something superbly charming in legitimate acting, and those who have witnessed Mr. Couldock in the drams of the "Chimney Corner" will endorse our assertion when we say that a more finished and natural piece of setting has never been vitnessed et. piece of acting has never been witnessed at McVicker's Theatre. The actor who can conpiece of acting has never been witnessed at McVicker's Theater. The actor who can contrast the feelings of an audience as Couldock does, deserves all the prosperity that can be heaped upon him, and a place in the temple of fame equal to the highest. At one moment you see his auditors in tears which cannot be repressed, and the next you hear them in uncontroloble laughter, and all produced by exquisite acting which brings forth true, genuine touches of nature. We say to all, do not fall to see the "Chimney Gorner." It is placed upon the stage in a beautiful manner, and every character is well acted. Mrs. Perrin adds much to its success as Grace Emery—the character is not equal to her talents—yet it is in acting well such inferior characters that causes an acknowledged actress to be firmly set in the hearts of her audience. Mrs. Perrin appears to night in Tom Taylor's comedy of "Nine Points of the Law," which, with the "Chimney Corner," makes an entertainment rarely equalled. Since Murdock's engagement, there has not been success as that achieved by Couldock and Mrs. Perrin.

Regives us pleasure to call attention to the advertisement of the Hilnois Coal Company, in another column. The Lasalle coal, it should be understood, is now greatly superior to the first pecimens offered in this market several years ago, and the price is so cheap that its consumption is rapidly increasing in the city. Chicago assumally pays hundreds of thousands of dollars to other States for coal, which her people would find immensely to their advantage to retain at home, by purchasing the coals of our home companies. We call the attention especially of our manufacturing interests to this subject, as one of vital importance to their success. It is not so much the amount of business done as the cheapness with which articles are made, that enables manufacturers to command the market, and thus schiere a competency. The liberal terms on which the Hilnois Coal Company will supply the "motive power," ought greatly to stimulate down manufacturing interests. In these hard times it also is worth with any now in the field.

And yet the same pressure, in a less and varying degree, is being made daily at all the public offices, and to merchaots, bankers, and salroad officers, who find hundreds of the use employed asking few work. There has been a large reduction in the working force of all these latter, the result of dull times, and necessary retrenchment.

We make the statement for two reasons, as affecting both parties. For those to whom such application is made, it is no pleasant task to persist in a necessary denial of strong claims presented. It is one of the unavoidable results of war, that stagnation in business which dries up the fountains and pleasant aprings from which many homes are supplied. It is a division and allotment of patrovic sacrifices to be endured, in many instances hard to bear. The privations and trials of those who go forth with arms in their hands are but a portion of the personal and private burdens of the war. It is an experience from which, as a people, we had believed our exemption had been blood bought by the founders of our lastitutions, asphey were, until maders of our lastitutions, asphey were, until maders of our lastitutions, asphey were, until maders of the inducements to patriotic execution now, and in our own day to re-establish the full power of the Government, under which our was the happlest instice on the globe. The power of the Government, under which ours was the happiest nation on the globe. The great army in the field, and the army of the unemployed at home are alike enrolled by Robellion, and will only be dishended when traitors fall.

Rebellion, and will only be disbended when traffors fall.

Thy Again.

There will be many tears ahed by youthful yee, as they read over the list of successful appraints to admission to the Chleago High School, which we publish elsewhere. We are well aware that, by all the pupils in our public schools, the High School is a shining goal ardently covested. It is a worthy ambition, and is so intended. The public will only be anxious to know that the list of successful candidates is made simply by merit, and not on the ground that we have only one High School to be filled. If fire hundred pupils are qualified for the High School, it is a cruel injustice to reject a share of them, large or small, because numbers in the High School must be kept down.

This condition of fairness and simple justice answered, as we trust it is the present year, there will still be many disappointed young folks. To all such we say, try again-buckle to the work afresh. The year will soon wheel round once more.

The surgeon of the Hospital testified that Anderson's wound was not a dangerous one, though from its position and nature it came near being such, it proving a severe cut across the left temple. The testimony showed that Anderson boarded with Fowler, and that there had been a quarrel between them. Although other parties were mixed up iranscended by the hope of increment profits. Hence, our business public, while they use freely the feature of the Ohio, Indians and Iowa State Banks, should keep a chary look-out lest the feature of any of them become "too plenty." Of course, as at present advised, we have no feats on this point; but our people have been so tearthly swinded that everybody whom they decide to trust must not be affronted if every movement is closely watched. As long as a bank adheres rigidity to the principle of having a foolar in his vanits, either in coin or short reliable business paper, for every dollar of its circulation, the people can safely give it credit. Below we publish a estatement of the condition of the Bank of the State of Indians, which seems fully to answer the above requisites. The demand for acthonic continues good, but the supply is ample. We have simply to repent quotations, viz: for approved currency outside it selbs at 14 GM W event, premium; for cots, par GM W event, discount. Some of the hank discountate in favor of Eastern currency, selling at M ana, &c. New York Stock Board.—The following are
